

Website Evaluation Worksheet

Decide if the following are True or False:

_____ It is important that a website be updated recently especially if it was created a while ago.

_____ Information you find on a website should be accurate but it does not have to fit your purpose to use the information.

_____ The following domains tend to be more reliable: .org, .edu, .gov.

_____ When evaluating a website, it does not matter if there are many dead links.

_____ It is important that information be reputable and accurate.

_____ It is not important for the author to be an expert on the topic of the website.

_____ If a site is a mask for advertising it is not something to be concerned about.

_____ To show relevance there should be a bibliography.

_____ Information you find on a website should be verified in other sources.

_____ It is very effective to search for websites by typing in a question.

_____ Information that incites and inflames is useful for research.

_____ The C in the acronym CRAAP stands for consistency.

_____ The title and the links on a website do not necessarily have to make sense.

_____ A website should be sponsored by a recognized group or organization.

_____ When you assess a website's objectivity, you would be assessing its point of view.

_____ Information that is slanted in its point of view is not useful for research.

_____ It is very helpful if the author gives you an email address to use to contact them.

_____ A good website should have a balance of pictures and text.

_____ The 2 As in the acronym CRAAP stand for authority and accuracy.

_____ The author should be separate from the webmaster on a website.